K MATCHMAKING

About the event

K in Düsseldorf is the world's premier trade fair for plastics and rubber. In 2010, more than 3000 exhibitors from over 50 countries will present their novelties, products and services to a specialist international audience of approx. 240.000 visitors. The world market level is displayed due to a high international representation and participation of more than 50%.

Objectives

At the K matchmaking 2010 the Enterprise Europe Network, its Sector Group Materials and NRW.Europa will bring together players from all over Europe and beyond to discuss and match offer and demand and to establish technology and business co-operation.

Target Groups

Companies, universities and research institutes as well as agents and sales representatives interested in finding

- innovative solutions and products
- new applications and markets
- partners for research and development
- distribution partners

Topics Covered

- Raw materials, auxiliaries
- Semi-finished products, technical parts and reinforced plastics
- Machinery and equipment for the plastics and rubber industries
- Services for the plastics and rubber industry

Enterprise Europe Network

The Enterprise Europe Network (EEN) offers support and advice to businesses across Europe and helps them make the most of the opportunities in the European Union.

It is made up of close to 600 partner organisations in more than 40 countries, promoting competitiveness and innovation at the local level in Europe and beyond.

The Sector Group Materials (SGM)

The Sector Group Materials is a professional network of material experts within the Enterprise Europe Network with specialists in plastics, rubber and composites. It uses the expertise of its members to support European enterprises in their scientific, technological and commercial development.

One approach is to link the actions of SGM with international trade exhibitions since these are an important source of innovative products and processes, attract a large international audience and are the ideal backdrop for activities in the areas of technological innovation and transnational business.
